

I'm Victoria and I live in Gloucestershire with my husband and two children. After gaining a degree from Plymouth University, I worked as an illustrator and graphic designer with my passion in drawing and painting and I now work in my garden studio, surrounded by fields and woodland. I first started designing greeting cards, but now I love children's books. I have a few different styles, ranging from traditional to quirky, cute and contemporary. I love textures and patterns working mainly with acrylic and pencil crayon combining traditional with Photoshop.
