

beehive

ILLUSTRATION

Martina Rotondo

info@beehiveillustration.co.uk

I was born in 1995 in Prato. I have always loved drawing, since I was a child. I love the mountains and when I can I escape the city, because in the mountains I find a lot of inspiration to create fantastic characters and worlds. To improve and deepen my passion I attended an Academy of Digital Arts in Florence and later a Master in Illustration and Concept Art. In the meantime I have collaborated with Italian and foreign publishing houses and this has allowed me to grow further. I like to experiment and always be curious, trying different techniques every day, both traditional and digital, creating special effects.

• Conventional • Photoshop • Digitally Painted

